FREEDOM

During the past three years at Agawam High School, we have learned more than merely history, math, and English. We have made choices, shared emotions, and have learned from one another. As our time at Agawam High School came to an end, we realized that we would be the ones making the rules, rather than our parents and teachers. While we valued our freedom to choose classes, activities, and friends, we looked forward to even greater freedoms. We soon would be exposed to other freedoms, such as the pursuit of further education, the freedom to expand upon old ideas, and perhaps even the freedom to change. As we emerged from the doors of AH5, we realized that there was a whole world outside waiting for us; the world in which we could truly express ourselves in freedom . . .

The first ammendment of the United States Constitution gives us the freedom of speech. But do you know how your friends honestly feel about Agawam High? Or what was most important or beneficial to them in high school? Do you know their most memorable or most embarrassing moments? Do you know what really matters to all your fellow students? It's time to ask some questions and get some answers!!!

How do you feel about the freshmen coming up?

I don't think there's enough room in the school, but I don't really mind.

What was your high school hang-out?

The X-Corbit corner!

What do you remember about your first day at AHS?

Hitting many people with my wheel-chair because I was totally lost.

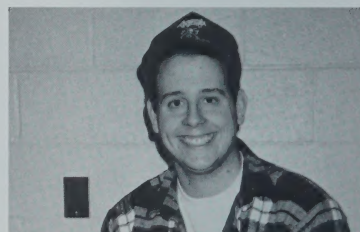

What do you like best about the class of '92?

Being advisor for the class of 1992 has been a rewarding experience. This class is full of outstanding individuals, but more importantly, the class had been able to come together and reach goals collectively.

What's your favorite class?

Cooking, because we eat.

What was the best theatre/Top 40/Vaudeville performance?

"Sunless Saturday" performed by S. S. Boiler Room at the Fall Top 40 (1991).

Who was the greatest asset of AHS?

For me, I'd say it's Show Choir, because not many schools have anything like it.

What was the best part about being an exchange student at AHS?

I met a lot of people and made a lot of friends.

What was the funniest announcement?

Oh, definitely one of Steve's stupid ones!

What was your favorite activity in gym?

Volleyball is the only activity that we have a tournament for. All the kids get up for it and it means the most out of all the activities.

What was the most memorable test you ever took at AHS?

A tenth grade English test for Mrs. Hines.

What was the most memorable news story of the year?

The Mike Tyson rape trial.

Who was your favorite teacher?

Mr. Gage because he's down to earth and I can talk to him.

Rude awakening
#457

Nobody really cares
what your G.P.A. was.

What would you like to change about AHS?

An open campus for seniors would be a good idea in that there are so many people in the school.

What was the most memorable assembly?

Dave Reover was the most memorable because he talked about his problems and still made people laugh.

What was the best Agawam sports game you've been to?

The first winning football game.

If you could take one thing from AHS when you leave, what would it be?

A section of lockers.

Freedom of the Press is an important aspect of America. This "Freedom", which many of us take for granted, allows us to know what is happening in our world. Here at Agawam High School, the "Mirror" brought us important issues relevant to how we as students live today. The "Mirror" staff tackled issues like teenage sexuality and sexual harassment. These are articles that many school papers stay away from.

Let's Talk About SEX

by Holly Pevzner '93

Google's doing it. Brenda did it. Everybody's doing it. At least it seems that way. Every time we flip on the tube another teenager is leaping into adulthood and leaving their virginity behind. Is this really healthy for the young viewing audience to witness? Remember the good old days with the Brady's and the Beaver? No one would even think about the "S" word until you were bonded in holy matrimony. Or did they?

Today's society at least appears to be more open with teenage sexuality. But is Hollywood being too open? It kids see that Brenda and Dylan of famed "Beverly Hills, 90210," did it on prom night, will it make them more apt to?

Have you turned on the radio lately? Every other song is talking about sex: "I Wanna Sex You Up," "Do Me," "Let's Talk About Sex," "I Want Your Sex"... The list goes on and on. Many are offended by the various television shows and songs dealing with the touchy subject of sex. But, have any of these nay sayers sat down and watched "Beverly Hills, 90210" or listen to the words of "Let's Talk About Sex"?

Nowadays, television and for the most part, music, deal with monogamy and safe sex. Isn't this a good thing? Do you remember the big uproar about George Michael's "I Want Your Sex" a few years back? Today, literally half of the songs on the radio speak about sex. Also, the opening week of this Fall's new season was called, "TV virginity week," when just twenty years ago married couples on TV slept in separate beds.

Some people seem to think that since sex is shown on television and sung about so frequently, teenagers will figure it out. They're dimmed and there is no sign of your parents getting home in the near future.

In the background, you can hear the faintest sound of a slow song. You start to kiss. But, what if it begins to go a little further...Do you have a condom?

According to a recent poll taken here at Agawam High, 49% of you admitted to being sexually active. The majority of you who are sexually active said that your main source of protection was the condom, with only 5% of you saying that you used the birth control pill.

Now the real question is: should condoms be dispensed at Agawam High, and if so, where?

The majority (90%) of you said that yes, condoms should be dispensed and that they should be available in the bathrooms. Only 11% said that they should be handed out by the nurse.

Mrs. Gould, guidance counselor here at Agawam High, is "in favor of the school's health personnel making condoms available." She feels that people should face the reality of students being sexually active and having to also face the reality of AIDS.

"By the time students get into high school," Mrs. Gould continued hesitantly, "they should be able to make decisions and not be treated like children in this sense."

Mr. Shults, a faculty member, felt that condoms should be available for the students through the nurse. He feels that, "Schools should offer condoms, but it is the responsibility of the students to make a wise decision about intercourse."

Sexual Harassment

by Krys Godfrey '92

Prejudice extends itself not only to racism, but to religion, economic class, and to sexual favoritism. Ironically, while women make up about 50% of society, they are considered a minority, and sometimes treated as such. During the Clarence Thomas/Anita Hill trials, America had to decide whom to put their faith in. Clarence Thomas won by a small margin, but he won nonetheless. Sexual discrimination still is not treated as seriously as it should be. There are still people out there that believe that Anita Hill "made up the whole thing to get attention." Just as there are people who believe victims of rape were "asking for it."

If you are not convinced that women can be discriminated against, think again while you examine the following statistics.

"Women in America make only 70 cents to every man's dollar."

"A woman with a college degree earns roughly as much as a man who never attended college."

"Women do not always get equal pay for equal work. According to the Department of Labor, a female nurse earns an average of eight dollars less than a male nurse."

I consider this rather unfair, especially since many women now are forced to support themselves and their children. Of course, not all of society discriminates against women, just like not all whites are prejudiced towards minorities, but it does not make the exceptions any less important. Women should recognize their abilities and their rights and not be afraid to fight. If a woman wants to be a lawyer, a doctor, or even a construction worker, no one should try to stop her, or make unnecessary remarks just because she is female, nor should they try to give her less pay than her male colleagues.

KRYG GODFREY

It is crucial that we realize how important it is to be fair in life. There are so many obstacles besides prejudice in life that need to be hurdled. Why bring hate and bias into the world, when we should be making peace with ourselves and other countries? In a year or so, some of us will be voting. Let's make our vote for politicians who will be honest and fair — and who will truly believe in the words, "and justice for all."

Condoms In Our School?

by Amyanne Tyrell '92

It's a Saturday night, and you and your girlfriend are home alone. The lights are dimmed and there is no sign of your parents getting home in the near future.

In the background, you can hear the faintest sound of a slow song. You start to kiss. But, what if it begins to go a little further...Do you have a condom?

According to a recent poll taken here at Agawam High, 49% of you admitted to being sexually active. The majority of you who are sexually active said that your main source of protection was the condom, with only 5% of you saying that you used the birth control pill.

"By the time students get into high school," Mrs. Gould continued hesitantly, "they should be able to make decisions and not be treated like children in this sense."

Mr. Shults, a faculty member, felt that condoms should be available for the students through the nurse. He feels that, "Schools should offer condoms, but it is the responsibility of the students to make a wise decision about intercourse."

Mrs. Halliham, the school nurse, thinks they should be available because of AIDS, but is uncomfortable with the idea. When asked how they should go about dealing with it, she replied, "It needs to be done, but I'm not sure how to handle it."

Mr. Thomson, the music director at AHS, feels that, "They should be available for teenagers, but not at a high school." He believes that a sex-education course would be much more efficient.

Mrs. Chase, a faculty member who teaches in the Home Economics Department, feels that, "As long as kids are educated, they should be responsible enough to purchase condoms for when they may need them."

She also feels that condoms should be dispensed in the nurse's office. When she was asked about having a sex-education course as its own class, she felt that there should not necessarily be a "sex-ed" class, but that every student should have a family living type course.

Whether this course be in a health class or a home-ec class was not an issue, as long as every student has a sex-education course before graduation.

According to Joe Willis, a student at AHS, "I think they should be in the bathroom because it is more discrete and personal."

According to Katie Poulos, also a student at AHS, "I don't think they should be at a high school because they are already available at drug stores."

Mr. Morrissey, Agawam High's principal, believes, "It will start to condone sex at too early an age," although he doesn't deny that it is already happening.

Superintendent Mr. Bruno is "personally opposed to it." He feels that there should be more in the terms of health education in the system.

Whatever you do or whatever you decide, remember that if you're going to play like an adult, you should act like one.

Another topic of crucial importance was racism. This poignant article showed us just how ugly racism can be. More importantly, it taught us to understand and accept other people for who they are.

The 1991-92 "Mirror" staff gave us brilliant editions, time and time again. They never feared to step into a controversial forum, they just wanted to give us the best news possible. Freedom of the Press will forever be a truly essential part of our lives.

Racism/Predjudice...

It's Everywhere!

by Vicki Sousa '92 and Amy Paradyz '92

Every town, every state, every country in the world has people in it who refuse to be ignorant of people of other people and calling them names without understanding why. Whether this ignorance is in the form of prejudice, racism, or discrimination, it can be attributed to the fact that some people simply do not accept differences.

To try to discover whether or not prejudice was a problem at AHS, we interviewed three students and two faculty, all of whom believe there is prejudice among the students. The students interviewed were chosen because of their ethnic backgrounds and their unique experiences with racism. We spoke to Hakeem Shamsi, a senior, Jason Kelly, African American, and Amy Foushee, Mexican Arabi. We also consulted Principal John Gaylor, who has been at AHS for 15 years. Here's what they had to say:

Q. WOULD YOU DEFINE RACISM? PREJUDICE?

AHS: Racism is the belief that people of different colors are different.

Mr. Morrissey: Prejudice is an outward sign of thinking another human being because of his or her physical features.

Tony: Prejudice is a prejudice to judge somebody before you know anything about them.

Mrs. Cohen: Prejudice exists because of ignorance. Once you get to know somebody you realize that that person is an OK person. You come to with all these big empty assumptions of what a person is like, because you say to yourself, "Oh, he's a black or he's a Jew."

PERSONAL EXPERIENCE:

Mrs. Cohen: When, about eight years ago, a student found out I was Jewish, he said, "But you're nice!" It turned out that his Dad had a Jewish boss who was mean, and the student was brought up to believe all Jews acted like the boss. "But I'm Jewish through, I could play basketball in a Jewish school!"

Tony: I had a hard time during the Iraq-American war. Saddam Hussein - and thought that brought him - Saddam Hussein - and thought was like him.

Rahul: ...

Mr. Morrissey: ...

Latina and Black students with us, and unfortunately a few more uncaring individuals.

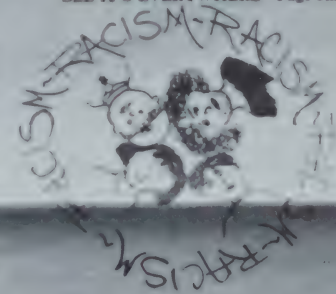

ARE YOU PREJUDICED?

Rahul: Yes, because we were robbed of our culture, freedom, and religion.

WHAT PERCENTAGE OF FIGHTS IN SCHOOL DO YOU BELIEVE CAN BE ATTRIBUTED TO RACISM?

Mr. Morrissey: There have been eight fights so far this year, and I feel two were inspired racially.

The AHS Quest For Weighted Grades

by Aaron Lajunesse '92

Earlier this year, the weighting which was given to grades for high ability advanced students was taken away through a vote by the Agawam School Committee. The only meeting that remained was five percent for Advanced Placement classes versus the 20% from other classes. This attempt and angered many students who had benefited from this for their hard work. The student in particular, Tony Spengler, decided to take action against the School Committee's decision.

Tony began at the beginning of the school year meeting the students of weighted grades and to members of the School Committee meetings and ideas with the weighting of grades. He began gathering information that supported his idea of weighted grades should be brought back on a vote starting a petition of registered voters who believed he had a point to make.

That was only the beginning of Tony's difficult fight in getting weighted for high ability and advanced. His efforts led him first to a city council meeting, where he spoke in order to gather support. He even went as far as to pass out ethnic sheets to his friends for them to bring and have their parents sign, upon completing the petition and which he needed fifty signatures. Tony prepared himself to give a speech at the October 22nd School Committee meeting.

On November 12, the next meeting took place, where various other students came to speak on Tony's behalf. During the regular meeting, Tony was again elected treasurer, and it was voted to suspend the committee rules, giving Tony open floor to debate the subject of weighted grades. The end result was Tony's success. Weighting was voted on and brought back to Agawam High School.

The weighting is generally the same as before it was revoked, with a five percent weighting on

Blood, Sweat, & Tears Help MIRROR To Win Best Overall Paper

Friday, November 22nd proved to be a day of reckoning for the staff of the AHS MIRROR. Finally, the staff's hard work was rewarded. At a journalism conference that was held at Holyoke Community College, the MIRROR earned several awards due to the excellent quality of the paper. This is the first time the new MIRROR has received any awards at this conference.

The awards included the following: Best Sports Photograph, Certificate of Excellence for feature writing, and finally and most importantly - Best Overall Paper in the Edgum Lovejoy Category.

The award for Best Overall Paper was won based on the final issue of the MIRROR from last year and the first two issues from this year. The feature story that won the certificate was about teen pregnancy and was written by seniors Vicki Sousa and Amy Paradyz. The sports photograph was taken by Phil Gaylor, who graduated last year.

Congratulations to the MIRROR staff. Keep up the good work!

STAR SPANGLED ACHIEVEMENTS

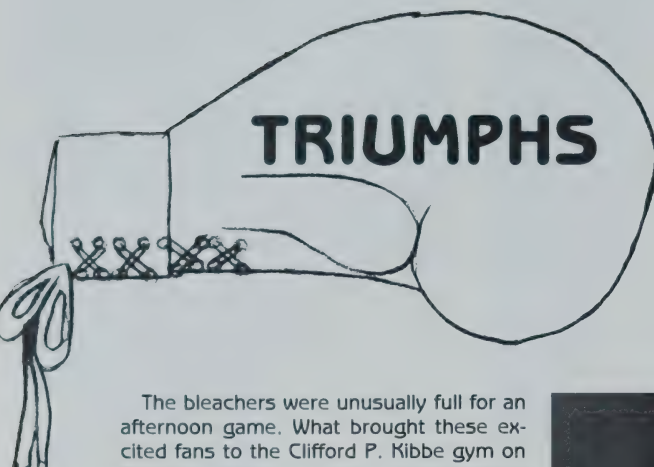

Like the billions of stars that shine in the sky, several twinkled this year at Agawam High. From holiday parades to auditorium-packed shows, the performances given by the 1991-1992 Band, Show Choir, and Theatre were outstanding. While not only entertaining the students, they were also representatives of our school to the community.

Creating an outstanding performance is an art in which only a select number of AHS students possess. Giving the audience emotions through acting, singing, or through a beautiful instrumental piece is a talent that many envy. AHS is very lucky to have many seniors who have this ability. We were grateful to see them at their best. Good luck to you all and we hope your dreams come true.

TRIUMPHS

The Agawam sports program has always been a tradition of spirit and excellence at Agawam High School. The girls' and boys' teams have worked hard and brought pride to their peers, coaches and town alike. This past year, select teams triumphed in their respective seasons. Girls' basketball, tennis, swimming, and field hockey triumphed in girls' sports, while football and wrestling proved to be successful triumphs on the boys' side in 1991. Each of these teams reached their goals and snatched their victories due to their perseverance, determination, and hard practice. We all look up to these players who gave us the fond memories and triumphs of the year in Agawam sports.

The bleachers were unusually full for an afternoon game. What brought these excited fans to the Clifford P. Kibbe gym on February seventh? It was the long-awaited rematch between the Agawam Varsity Girls' Basketball team and their rivals from Amherst Regional. After their first meeting, the Brownies were eager to hand the Hurricanes their first loss. Agawam took control from the opening tip, and remained on top to defeat Amherst, 72-59. Senior captain Sheila Martin remembered the team's triumph well: "Everyone was in the game. All six players contributed everything they had. We knew that in order to win we had to play harder and want it more than they did . . . And we did."

Agawam Wrestling has been a legend for many years. Their excellence had been proven in countless matches and tournaments. This year's Commonwealth Cup came right down to the wire. Superstars included Mike Cooper, who pinned his man in forty-two seconds, Nathan Wood's 8-2 win, Mike Bryant's 16-1 win, and Nick Langone's 1 minute and twenty-five second pin. The last match would be the determinant for a Brownie win. George Ghareeb's win would make the team victorious. George Ghareeb certainly came through for his teammates . . . with an eighteen second pin! Once again, Agawam proved their dominance in the sport, coming home trophy in hand.

"We went into the game feeling confident with a lot of returning starters. Everything we'd practiced came together and we played to our fullest potential. It was the best feeling knowing our team beat Longmeadow for the first time since the program started." Senior, Amy Marcotte.

This year's Field Hockey season opener started with a loud bang, and Longmeadow was only the beginning for the girls. Agawam clinched a seed in Western Mass, and scored a goal against their powerhouse rival, Southwick. The seniors especially agreed that it was a season never to be forgotten. "I've loved all the challenges we had to face this year," said Kryz Godfrey, "but proving that we could handle the challenges was my favorite part."

Girls' Tennis stunned their first opponents in the season opener versus Northampton. "We snuck up on them; they had no clue, and we beat them 3-2 . . . They were by far a more experienced team! The kids played their hearts out." Miss Wolochowicz, head coach.

Girls' Tennis certainly capitalized on their strengths, as the team was dominated by senior starters. Junior doubles star, Heather Magovern added, "Everybody really played their best. We were satisfied to reach our spot in Western Mass contention." The hard work and determination paid off the girls in a great season.

If you ask any Agawam resident who our rival is, you can bet that the answer will be "West Side." However, Agawam gymnastics found themselves a new rival, perhaps due to the fact that West Springfield was not a threat. Waconah Regional proved to be their stiffest competition in the B Division of Western Mass. Throughout past years, the two teams were always close, but Waconah seemed to always snatch the victory. This year, however, history was not going to repeat itself. The Agawam girls had improved steadily throughout the duration of their season, as they faced their last meet against Waconah. Even though Waconah did inch past Agawam for the victory by 7/10 of a point, the Brownies had produced the highest score of the season.

The players were eager and anxious on one Saturday afternoon back in October. There was more pressure and excitement for Agawam Football as they would be facing the undefeated Golden Eagles of Central High. The Brownies managed to ruin Central's flawless 4-0 record, as Chris Roy intercepted the ball for an Agawam touchdown. The extra point decided the victory in this battle on the gridiron. Senior captain Mike Briggs commented, "We were mentally prepared before the game, and once we scored the first touchdown it reassured our feelings." Team unity, terrific defense, and confidence marked the Brownie football success.

The Girls' Swim Team was both mentally and physically prepared for their first meet of the season. The upcoming meets would be filled with challenging competition, but the girls knew that they possessed the talent and desire. After three winless seasons, the Varsity girls beat a strong Central group, starting off with a 1-0 record. The Brownies came out on top with a close 96-92 tally. Their 7-4 record (at press time), and their seed in Western Mass were the results of their positive attitude. Senior captain Erica Vanderhoof recalled the excitement — "The tension was high because we knew we had the potential to beat them, but we needed every person to do the best that we could possibly do."

THE SPIRIT OF AHS!

The word freedom is often associated with the word spirit. There are many students at Agawam High School who have an inner spirit, that drives them to participate and in turn share their spirit. Here are some clubs and activities that helped bring that "Spirit" into the lives of AHS students. These events and the people involved are special as they helped to create memorable moments that will last a lifetime.

"Fun in the Sun" was what the seniors experienced last spring with the help of advisor Dean Vecchiarelli at the Senior Carwash. Dedicated seniors scrubbed away as they raised money for the class of 1992 to defray the cost of special senior activities such as the Semi, Prom, and Picnic. These enthusiastic students managed to raise over $500.00 for the senior class. The highlight of the day was when the seniors showed off their carwashing abilities on a monster truck. Thanks to these devoted seniors, our class events didn't take a huge bite out of wallets.

The Office of Student Affairs is an important part of Agawam High School. This dedicated team of class representatives are responsible for holding all elections. Along with doing that, they also held mistletoe and carnation sales. All this work comes down to one word, spirit. These representatives not only have school spirit, but they help promote it as well. O.S.A. held another "Spirit Week" this year. This project allowed the entire school to participate in various activities, which led to a boost in school spirit. Thanks to O.S.A. Agawam students' morale remained high.

National Honor Society is not just a group of "smart kids". These students have requirements, in addition to scholarship, in order to be a part of N.H.S. Members must also demonstrate leadership, character, and service. Service is perhaps the most important duty. These students were always willing to give up their time to help others. Members have helped the Lion's Club at the Big E, and spent time at a phone-a-thon for the American Heart Association. The "Spirit" they have shows in their ability to help others instead of themselves.

"Go Agawam!" The cheerleaders pumped up the crowd and fostered school spirit throughout the football and basketball seasons. They were a large part of the success at the first annual Bonfire/Rally, given the night before the Thanksgiving Day match up against West Springfield. The energy and dedication of the Agawam Cheerleaders helped make every student at AHS feel proud to be one of the Brownies.

Who could forget Agawam's biggest masquerade party? On November 22, the senior class partied in their costumes and raised money through ticket sales to benefit their class. Outfits that resembled presidents, rock stars, dwarfs, and flowers, as well as a variety of others, could be seen in the cafeteria on fellow students dancing the night away. A DJ and lip-sync contest also added to the fun of the evening.

At the Semi Formal, the seniors joined once again, but this time to enjoy a delicious dinner at Shaker Farms in Westfield. The Semi Formal was deejayed by Dominic Dilizia, and students swayed to the slow songs, as well as the rock tunes. The Semi encouraged the seniors to bond together as a class in an elegant way and reminded them of the many friendships that had been formed throughout their school years.

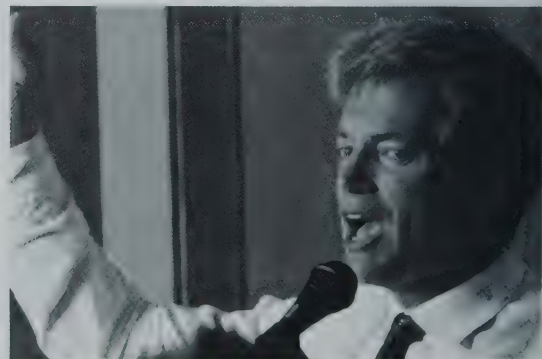

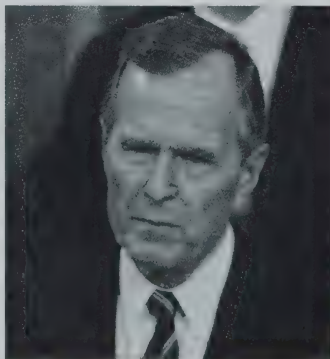

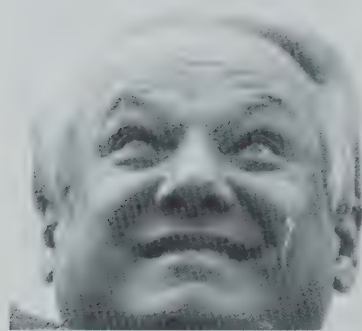

The intramural volleyball program, in which students participated in during physical education classes, was a huge success once again. The final two teams, "That Court Over There" and "One A Piece" battled it out in the gymnasium with all of AHS watching. The Volleyball Tournament promoted individual class spirit as we not only rooted for our favorite team, but for our favorite class as well!

FLASHBACK

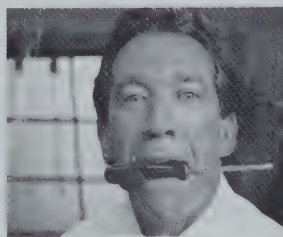

As we look at all these pictures we "Flashback" to what this year has meant to all of us. There has been laughter, tears, joy, and sadness. Whatever the emotion, this has been a year to remember.

As a nation, we were shaken by Operation Desert Storm. Our pride turned to joy as we were victorious in liberating Kuwait. A possible retreat to communism scared the world, but freedom proved to be the victor as we witnessed the collapse of the Soviet Union. As always, sexual behavior became big news. Anita Hill accused Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas of sexual harassment. The scandal-rocked Kennedys were disturbed by William Kennedy Smith being accused of rape. Even Iron Mike Tyson could not escape accusations. He was, however, convicted of raping a Miss Black America contestant. Controversy was sparked as former Ku Klux Klan member David Duke ran for governor of Louisiana. Then there was our President George Bush. His office was plagued by problems of the recession.

We saw a real life "Silence of the Lambs" unfold with the gruesome tale of Jeffery Dahmer. The world mourned the loss of a deeply loved Michael Landon. Freedom reigned as all the American hostages were freed which was truly a joyous moment for everyone. The sports world was crushed when basketball great Magic Johnson was discovered to be HIV positive. This showed the world that nobody is immune. The Olympics kept us glued to our T.V.'s. Pee Wee Herman was caught with his pants down. Nirvana taught us what teen spirit smells like. America got a new Bob Villa with Tim Allen of "Home Improvement." Huh? Then there was Beverly Hills 90210. Teen idols showed us that rich kids can have their problems too. Whatever your favorite "Flashback" is, no picture can show the great times we've had together. Those memories will forever remain pictures in our hearts and minds.

Well, another year has come to the end. The moment we've all been waiting for is finally here — GRADUATION. Wow. We've been through a lot together, some of us since elementary or middle school. Many times it seems as though we've been going to school with the same people forever now. Looking back, it seems like just yesterday we were starting kindergarten and beginning many friendships. Some friends drifted away, but the dearest ones are still there when they are needed, as always. This year meant a lot. For some of us it meant interviews, campus visits, applications and anticipating acceptance letters. For others it meant getting ready to enter the work force. But through all the hectic, frustrating and stressful times, there were always the memorable times when friends pulled together and spent valuable time with one another.

The biggest part of this year was saying good-bye. Saying good-bye, for most people isn't easy, it isn't fun. A lot of people hate saying good-bye, for fear they'll never see each other again. That's not true for the class of 1992. We will stick together for many years to come. The bonds that our class has created will never break.

GOOD-BYE AND GOOD LUCK CLASS OF 1992!

CLASSHISTORYCLASSHISTORYCLAS

It was September 6, 1989 when we began our final climb to freedom, entering Agawam High School led by Rick Pioggia, President; Jennifer Easton, Vice President; Amy Paradysz, Secretary; and Amy LaPlante, Treasurer. We attended the first "Summer Time Anytime Beach Party," and the winter olympics. The Show Choir and Theater classes entertained us with "Fame", "Romeo and Juliet", and "12 Angry Women." We purchased candy canes for special friends to celebrate winter holidays. The unpleasant odor of stink bombs tainted the hallways. Numerical report cards were introduced along with an expanded parking lot. Sports teams made us proud when the softball team, girls basketball team, and wrestling won the Western Mass. Championships, and the wrestlers placed second in the state competition.

We returned for our second year guided by Bill Pisano, President; Tony Magnacca, Vice President; Erica Vanderhoof, Secretary; and Amy LaPlante, Treasurer. We once again enjoyed the Beach Party, but missed the winter olympics. The 1990 prom lived up to its theme: "Wonderful Tonight." Dave Roever fascinated us with his life story, and we challenged each other at the best Super Quest yet. Show Choir and Theater impressed us with the ability they showed in "Phantom of the Opera", "Jesus Christ Superstar", "The Children's Hour", "Steel Magnolias", and "A Midsummer Night's Dream." We held a car wash, and cheered on our favorite team at the school-wide volleyball tournament championship. Midterms were extended and moved to half days. A lottery was held for parking places. We were torn when the boys soccer team was forced to forfeit and the wrestlers again won the Western Mass. Championship and brought back the Commonwealth Cup.

Finally, we reached the last step in our high school careers. With anxious enthusiasm, we could see our freedom approaching. We followed Ben Ferris, President; Tony Magnacca, Vice President; Erica Vanderhoof, Secretary; and Amy LaPlante, Treasurer; to our futures. Senior year was filled with many activities. Aside from personal preparations for graduation, we joined for several events. We were struck with the reality of a docu-drama, warning of drinking and driving. Helicopters arrived at A.H.S. for a National Guard show. An over-enthusiastic crowd led to an interruption of the winter Top 40. We hid our true identities as we gathered for the Kid Party. We assembled for the semi-formal, toga party, senior prom, and class breakfast and picnic. The Show Choir and Theater classes dazzled us with their final performances of "Miss Saigon", "Uncommon Women", "Anne of Green Gables", "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest", and "HOT L Baltimore." Mistle Dough sales were introduced. The freshmen arrived. Grade weighting was taken away and reinstated. A bonfire replaced the in-school rally before the Thanksgiving West-Side football game. It all climaxed at graduation, where we took our first steps into our futures, and FREEDOM!!

Forever Friends

A friend, according to Webster's, is defined as a person whom one knows well and is fond of . . . but a friend is something more than that. A friend is somebody special, someone who will listen to you when no one else will, someone who can cheer you up when you are down, will make you laugh until you cry, and who will always stick by you no matter what. Friendships last beyond high school years, for they are cherished deep in our hearts, as we will always be forever friends.

OUR DECLARATION

SOME PARTING WORDS

When, in the course of student life, it becomes necessary for us, as students to prepare for "the real world," we must leave this chapter of our lives behind. Long after we depart, we will still cherish the friends we will leave and the knowledge they taught us, more valuable than any lesson in a textbook.

HOPES AND DREAMS

We believe that we are entitled to the freedom of our nation, the freedom to make choices for ourselves, and the freedom to pursue personal happiness. With these rights, we will exit AHS as a class joined forever in friendship, and as adults with memories of our high school days together. We will strive for success and to become no less than our dreams.

OF INDEPENDENCE

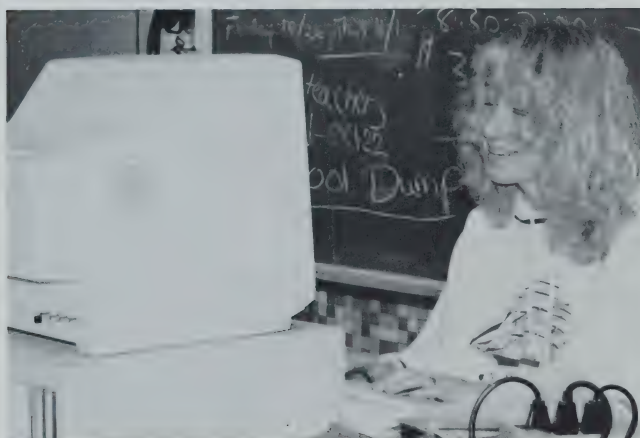

COMING TO A CROSSROADS

We have matured to the point where we, ourselves, know it is time to move on. Reaching adulthood, we face various new challenges. Some of us will choose to continue our education at college; others will opt to dive right into a career. Either way, it is time to move on.

A NEW BEGINNING

After all these years together, it is time for us to begin a new chapter in our lives. We could not have reached this point without the guidance of our teachers, parents, and friends. For this, we thank you. We will always hold dear the friendships our class has made together through the years. It will be difficult to leave each other behind, but we won't really need to . . . we'll be in each other's hearts.

JUST A REMINDER . . . SENIORS STILL RULE!!!

CONGRATULATIONS GRADS

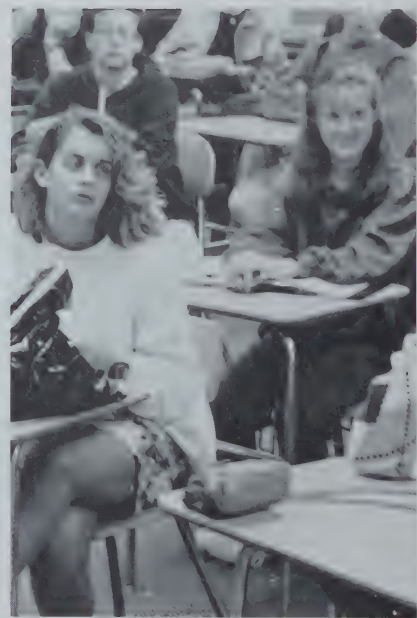

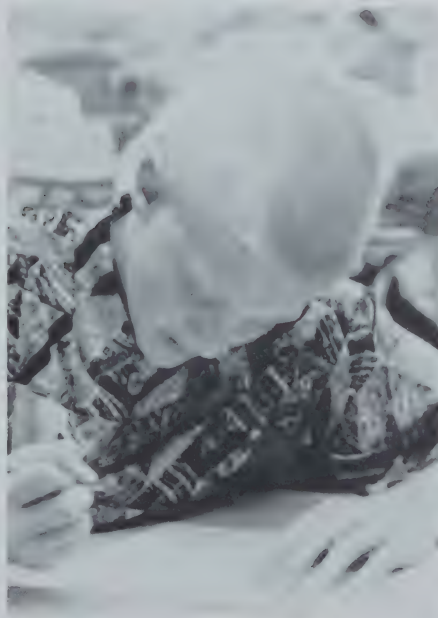

To every beginning, there is an end . . . As we stood up to receive our diplomas in Symphony Hall, each of us realized that our three years at Agawam High School were coming to a close. In these three years, we experienced everything from hard tests to special friendships and unforgettable memories. The band and Show Choir echoed these moments through music, and our President, Valedictorian, and Salutatorian spoke about the history of our class and the new challenges that we will face. At last, the moment had arrived for us to end our saga and venture onward to experience a new kind of freedom.

FREEDOM 92!

FOOTBALL

The 1991-92 varsity football team had an outstanding year. Under second year coach Dean Vecchiarelli the team greatly improved upon last year's disappointing record. Tri-captains Mike Briggs, Stu McGregor, and Keith Hargis lead the team to a 4-6 finish, including an exciting win over previously undefeated Central. Losing to West Side on Thanksgiving Day, the seniors unfortunately never had the experience of beating the Terriers, but felt the support of their classmates at the first bonfire-rally on the eve of the game. As one of the stars of the season, Chris Roy was named to the first team, All-Western Mass. and Keith Hargis, Nick Langone, and Stu McGregor were named to the second team. The school was proud to be represented by such a strong team

FIELD HOCKEY

This year's field hockey team, once again coached by Miss Grieve, was prepared this season to give it their all. They came out with team unity, spirit, and the desire to win. This ambition positively resulted in their 7-4-5 record. Team highlights included a win against Longmeadow for the first time in eight years, and being the only team to score against long-time champ, Southwick. The season ended with senior co-captains Erica Vanderhoof and Sherry Tetreault leading the team to the quarter-finals along with the help of seniors Sheila Martin, Milissa Parentela, Krysten Godfrey, and Amy Marcotte. Individually, Erica Vanderhoof achieved first Team Western Mass., and Amy Marcotte received second team Western Mass. The team ended up going far, and with strong underclassman contributions, will continue to soar next year.

Boys' Soccer

The 1991 Boys' Varsity Soccer Team proved they could compete with the best of the league, although they were a young and inexperienced team. Their lack of experience was due to the loss of ten seniors from the previous season, and their record was 1-10-6. Though their record did not reflect it, their talent was evident against such powerhouse teams as Cathedral, Ludlow, and Central.

Dan LaBreck and Ben Ferris were named captains by coach Dick Cowles. They showed strong leadership qualities and kept the team's spirit up throughout the season. So while the 1991 season may not have been the best for Boys' Soccer they proved that they could hold their own. The future looks bright for this team. They will certainly be a team to reckon with.

Girls' Soccer

The 1991 Girls' Varsity Soccer Team was outstanding this season. They were strong competitors against any opponents, and showed that they were a powerful and determined team. Their record was 11-5-2 in the regular season, and 1-1 in the Western Mass Tournament. This proved that the team was skilled, and had the integrity to win it all.

The team was directed by veteran coach Mr. O'Brien. Captains Jen Lomelino, Amy LaPlante, Erin Brown, and Tracie Dimascola helped to guide the girls, and keep their morale high. Other powerful contenders on the team included, Kim Trudel, Nicole Racicot, and Nicole DeCosmo. Tracie Dimascola was named to the first team Western Mass., and Amy LaPlante and Kim Trudel were named to the second team. Congratulations to the Girls' Soccer Team for a productive and exciting season.

GYMNASTICS

The Gymnastics team had a season plagued by a number of broken arms, but the girls were able to beat the odds and earn a second place rank in Western Mass. Despite their difficulties, the team was able to pull through with a 4-2 record in the B division and a 7-12 record overall — a highly successful season. Second year coach, Michelle Willard named seniors Karen Dean, Jill Robb, and Chris Hatzipetro captains. Senior Karen Dean and junior Rachael White were named to the first team All-Western Mass., while senior Katie McCarthy and sophomore Beth Lacienski were named to the second team by the Springfield Republican. Agawam gymnastics shows the promise for an exciting season next fall, but it wouldn't hurt to wish them a little good luck.

Wrestling

To no one's surprise the varsity wrestling team had another tremendous start. At press time, the team was 2-0 in league action, not including early tournament victories. Veteran coach Phil Tomkiel named standouts Mike Cooper, Stu McGregor, and Nick Langone captains for the 1991-1992 season. Other strong performances came from Nathan Wood and Dave McKay. Sophomores Chris Wilkie and Kevin Willard saw varsity action for the first time and were responsible for many victories. The team brought home first place trophies from the Commonwealth Cup, the Christmas Tournament, and the Ludlow Tournament. They also placed second in the Milford Tournament. We expect the team will continue to perform well for the rest of the season, and live up to the legacy they have created in Agawam.

1991-1992 Junior Varsity

Boys' basketball proved their potential on the court with a quick start, boasting a 3-0 record. However, the boys continued to hit a tough part of their schedule, and declined to a 3-7 record. Despite this, the team was picked to win the league by "The Union News" in its Winter Sports Preview. Perhaps this is due to the newly acquired strength of the Brownies, their ability to run out of the back court. At press time, the team led by coach Mike Martin and senior captain Mike Briggs, was reaching their league schedule where they are expected to dominate. This season should be an opportunity for Agawam to win the Valley Wheel League again.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Girls' basketball, coached by Louis Conte, has started off an excellent season with an incredible 9-0 record. Captain Shiela Martin is called upon to take over the loss of five seniors, as the team is young and relies on its eight varsity players. Starters include Kim Trudel, Cyndi Stone, Stephanie Mason, Laura Bielitz, and Sheila Martin. The inside post play will be executed in order to snag more victories. The Agawam hoopsters have demonstrated talent and hard work with their two point win over Cathedral, and victories over favored rival, West Springfield. With luck and continued practice, the rest of their schedule should follow suit.

Uh oh! What did you do?

Phew! There's no puck in the net!

You'd think that with some of their practices being held at 5:30 in the morning, the hockey team would be asleep on the ice. However, that is not the case. The 1991-92 Boys' Hockey Team is strutting their stuff on the ice with an impressive 5-2-2 record. Coach Michael Lazazzera, and captains Kevin Fleury, Ben Benton, Jeff Perreault, and Craig Waryasz led the Brownies through their first season at the Olympia, due to the closure of the Coliseum. Halfway through the season, they had already matched their win record from 1990-1991 season, perhaps due to their tough goal tending and powerful offense. It looks like the Boys' Hockey team has made their goal this season.

BOYS' SWIMMING

Right from the first, "On your mark, get set, go!", boys' swimming was off to a good start. Coach Dave Smith was highly optimistic despite the team's 1-5 record at press time, stating that records could possibly be broken in the 100 butterfly, 100 backstroke, and the 200 freestyle. Captain Aaron Orsucci was a great contributor to the team as well as a qualifier for Western Mass. Other Western Mass. hopefuls included Steve Lewis, Alan Niemiec, Gary Jock, John Champigny, and Jeremy Spring. Divers Jason Surreria and Tim Church were also dubbed exceptional. With so many strong underclassman participants, the boys can look to make a big splash in the pool of success.

Nancy's prepared for a nuclear disaster.

Early in the season, the girls' varsity swimming team made a statement, proving they can compete with the best in the league. Under the leadership of coach Jason Osborne and captains Erica Vanderhoof, Nancy Bazanchuk, and Rachael White, the team earned their first win in three years! The 200 medley relay and the 200 freestyle relay school records were broken in the early season by the team of Erica Vanderhoof, Heather Pliska, Lexa Page, and Amy Hume. Heather Pliska also broke the individual 100 breaststroke record. Divers Rachael White, Tammy Leary, and Michelle Podsiadlo had strong performances, with Rachael White breaking the school diving record, which was her own. At press time, the team was 3-2, and more victories were to be expected.

SKIING

The 1991-1992 Varsity Ski Team was directed by girls' coach, Jim Graveline, and boys' coach, Glenn Olson. Kim Nacewicz and Dyan Deluce were captains for the girls' team, and Brett Gearing led the boys' team. In the early season, both teams showed promise on the slopes. Kim Nacewicz, Dyan Deluce, and Florence Laly displayed great ability in their first meet, where they placed fifth out of nine teams in their competitive B division. Paul Markowski, Ed Lalancette, Brett Gearing, and Joe Sherpa stood out on the boys' side. Returners from last year showed great improvement, as both teams can be expected to be in contention with the best teams in the Western Mass. area.

Putt, Putt

The Golf Team had an impressive season this year. They walked away with some strong victories that proved that they were a well practiced team. Coach Bachini, along with captains Chris McElligott, Brian Borecki, and Keith O'Connell, kept the team prepared for all their meets. Their record was 3-11, but it was their big wins that made the season memorable.

The highlight of the season was their come from behind win against Amherst. They won this game with the last hole. Chris McElligott was the standout this season. In the Western Mass. finals he pulled a 78. Only ten players make it to the State Finals, and Chris missed the cutoff by two strokes. Their goal for next year is to have players make it to the States. According to Coach Bachini there will be more than enough talent returning next year, to take this team all the way.

I am outta here!

Look at that ball go!

BASEBALL

Oh what a feeling!

The 1990-1991 varsity boys' baseball team suffered a tough season with a record of six wins to fourteen losses. Two players showed great talent. Bryan Connery displayed his power at the plate by batting 357. Rick Henry led the team to one-third of their victories from the pitcher's mound. Experienced coach Gerry Smith was assisted by Ed Morace. The team was also led by senior captain Todd Hyland. The coming year is expected to be a rebuilding season for the team.

The Varsity Softball team "started over" in the spring of 1991. They lacked experience, as Stephanie Mason was the only returning starter from the previous season. Under the leadership of coach Debbie Lickley, and captains Molly Moriarty, Teresa Desmarais, and sophomore Stephanie Mason, the team finished with a 4-14 record. Coach Lickley regarded the season as a valuable learning experience for underclassmen, who were the majority of the team. Kim Trudel's strong performance on first base was the highlight of the season, and earned her a spot on the second team All-Western Mass. The softball team will look forward to a brighter season in 1992, as maturity and experience will be on their side.

To the moon baby!

Balance is the key.

The 1991 Boys' Track Team had a productive season this year. The team bounced back from their 1990 record, which was 1-8, to a record of 4-4. This no doubt pleased all who participated. The team was led by senior captains Dan Beavis and Brett Boskiewicz. Coaches Michael LaZazzera and Eric Lunden pushed the team to be the best they could be.

Track is more of an individual sport than a team sport. This year a few exceptional individuals gave it their all, as they strived for Western Mass. Brett Boskiewicz qualified in the high hurdles and the triple jump. Other contenders for Western Mass. were James Camidge in the 400m and long jump, and Luis Savina in the 800m. Brett Boskiewicz went on to States, where he placed 6th overall. The Boys' Track Team was greatly improved this season. They showed that they had the courage and stamina to win.

Girls' Track

Nippy out Erica?

The 1991 Girls' Track Team had a surprisingly good season this year. For the first time in two years they won a meet. In fact, they had an outstanding record of 3-5. Coaches Jeff Reece and Lisa O'Connor kept the team in shape, while captains Joy Clark, Sarah Fogg, and Sheila Martin helped lead the team.

This season was a productive one, with three teammates placing Western Mass. Erica Vanderhoof qualified in the 400 meter, Joy Clark placed in the 800 meter, and Cindy Sisk placed in the 2 mile. At the Western Mass. meet, Joy placed fourth and Cindy Sisk placed fifth and Joy also went on to States. With a great season like this, we are looking forward to watching them in the future.

The 1990-91 boys' varsity tennis team, under the direction of coach Kenneth Dean, had a respectable season considering their lack of upperclassman experience. After the loss of six seniors from the previous spring, the team regarded 1991 as a rebuilding year. They finished with a record of 5 wins and 8 losses. Although the team had no captains, they were guided by standouts Mark Radtke, Sean Sullivan, and Andrew Turcotte. Participating seniors included Marc Scortino, Matt Dessereau, and Anthony Leger. With the teams continuing dedication and experience, the coming year looks more hopeful.

GIRLS' TENNIS

Just give me the ball!

I don't want to break a nail, guys!

Heather shares a chuckle with her coach.

You could definitely say the Girls Varsity Tennis Team caused some serious "racket." They had an outstanding season this past spring, under veteran coach Miss Wolochowicz. The girls ended the season with an impressive 11-3 record, including an exciting win over the powerful Northampton team.

Girls tennis made the Western Mass tournament for the third year in a row. Leading seniors included Cindy Zielinski, Roya Bahrehmand, Katie DeBonville, Gina Verngani, Jen Rosner, and Kris Palazzi. Heather Magovern, Amy LaPlante, Jodi Polep and Lana Quintal added their talent to the success, as did Jill Rullman and Liz Cornwell.

With strong performances from the underclassmen, the 1992 tennis team can hope to be in full swing once again.

CHEERLEADING

Hats off to the 1991-1992 Varsity Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders take a break before the big game . . .

Who are those smiling, spirited girls clad in orange and brown skirts? They are the Agawam cheerleaders, and perhaps you have seen them painting signs for the football rally in the lobby, or maybe you have viewed one of their many fantastic stunts done on the field or on the basketball court. The 1991-1992 cheerleaders were truly dedicated to their purpose, keeping school spirit constantly on the rise.

This year's squad functioned under first-year coach Debbie LaMotte, and was led by senior co-captains Katie Fitzpatrick, Leslie Gorman, Andrea Michael, and Christie Scheve. At summer camp, the girls won four superior ribbons and the camp championship in sideline cheer. Additionally, seniors Christie Scheve and Jillian Ofcarcik were named UCA All-Stars, and were given the opportunity to march in the New Year's Day Parade in London, England.

The cheerleaders also put on a Bonfire/Rally to psyche up the football team for their rivalry game against West Springfield. Other seniors included Serena Barber, Kim Duga, and Jillian Ofcarcik.

SHOW CHOIR

Do you hear what I hear?

Senior Show Choir members pause to pose.

Mr. Files prays for the success of Jesus Christ Superstar.

Many of us look forward to viewing the variety of talent put on by the fabulous Show Choir. This talented group displayed exceptional ability under Mr. Files' creative lead. The thirty-two member group exhibited their fine singing at the Winter Concert and the Broadway Review shows, where they performed a medley from the musical "Miss Saigon." They also sponsored two Top 40 shows, and a Vaudeville show, in which individuals had the chance to stand in the limelight. The final and probably the most sentimental performance by this group was the farewell song sung at graduation.

THEATRE

The curtain closes and the lights fade, as the audience explodes into applause. Once again, one of Mrs. Poulin's theatre groups had delivered a successful performance. The theatre II classes staged "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest" with Lana Quintal playing Nurse Ratched and Nick Langone as Randal McMurphy, and "Anne of Green Gables" with Leslie Gorman, Jodi Polep, Shannon Scarlett, and Tom Wlaschina in the leading roles. The seventh period class performed "Hot'l Baltimore" and "Uncommon Women," the latter of which was directed by senior Lisa Dialessi. With several theatre I classes under the leadership of Mrs. Poulin, Agawam High can look forward to the same quality of acting in the years to come.

SACHEM STAFF

The selected 1991-1992 Sachem staff included 28 stressed-out, yet extremely conscientious seniors who worked diligently under their fearless leader Mr. Pulaski, to dazzle all of Agawam High School with the best yearbook ever known to man.

Keeping appointments and warning us about impending deadlines was Mr. Pulaski's power-secretary Michelle Auger, who helped keep AT&T in business.

The three editors; Editor-in-Chief Lana Quintal and Associate Editors Leslie Gorman and Sheila Martin, assigned tasks and kept late hours deciding what was "hot" and what was "not."

The Layout Staff was made up of Shannon Scarlett, Layout Editor, Andrea Michael, Christie Scheve, and Jenn Winter. These (often highly-caffeinated) girls painstakingly designed each page, and were the backbone of the over-all appearance of our yearbook.

The Literary Staff, fully manned with white-out, used their imaginations to create all yearbook copy. Lost in a sea of correcting tapes and typing ribbons were Krysten Godfrey, Literary Editor, Amy Paradysz, Amy Prochaska, and Heather Wynne.

The camera zeros in on the Photography Staff

The Business Staff of Mark Litchfield, Kim Nacewicz, and Jenn Pisano kept count of the incoming flow of cash as well as our "debts." This triumvirate collected all yearbook payments and helped make the annual assembly a success.

Next in line were the Photography Staff, who made blinded AHS students fear cameras forever. Members included Sharon Ziegert, Photography Editor, Erin Bradley, Michele Daignault, Jill Robb, and Erica Vanderhoof.

Keeping our yearbook prices low and helping businesses get noticed were the ambitious members of the Advertising Staff. These ladies included Kristen Alechny, Ad Editor, Kelly Cook, Sarah Hufland, Jodi Polep, Amy Marcotte, and Kristina Galarneau.

Last but not least were the Sports Staff duo Ben Ferris and Kate McCarthy, who compiled the statistics of the AHS teams.

The Sachem staff (maybe due to its ritual after-hours bonding, abundance of junk food, or most likely to its talented ensemble of hard-working seniors), collaborated to put out the best yearbook ever; the freedom of the press at its best!

CHORUS

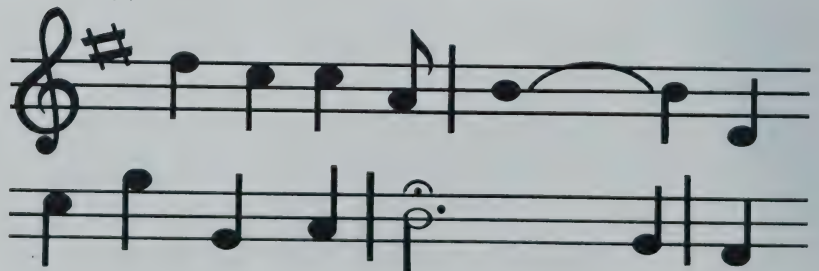

If you attended any of the Top 40 or Vaudeville shows, you may have noticed some individuals who you didn't recognize from Show Choir. They were probably members of this year's chorus.

Underclassmen with hopes of stardom, or just getting into Show Choir, spent much energy getting hyped for solo performances like this, and combined with the Show Choir for performances at some shows. You might have caught a glimpse of them at either the winter concert, Broadway Review, or at graduation.

Shown in the above three photos, the Agawam Chorus sings a melodious tune as they practice their hearts out.

CONCERT BAND

4th Period Concert Band

There are many Mozarts in Agawam High School, who have been led this year by Music Director, Mr. Thomson in the Concert Band. These musical geniuses practiced every other day in class in order to prepare for numerous parades and festivals. Additional time was often put in for concerts and special events. The Concert Band wowed us this year at the Christmas Concert, and won awards for their excellence in the MICA festivals. Their annual Spring Trip was a journey to Williamsburg, Virginia at the Dixie Class Festival. The hard work and hours of practice were appreciated by all listeners. Leaders included President, Jen LeBlanc, Vice-President, Ray Drewnowski, Equipment Manager, Jeff Bryant, and Librarian, Chris Mineo.

COLORGUARD AND

Put on a happy face . . .

During the football games this year, we not only feasted our eyes upon godlike football players and incredible cheerleaders, but we also saw the Marching Band and Colorguard strut their stuff on the gridiron. This talented group was led by Mr. Thomson, and assisted by Todd Connery, who helped members choreograph steps in time to the music of the band. The group managed to snatch awards at the Fall Foliage Parade in North Adams and at the MICA festival at Fitchburg State College. Leaders included Drum Majors, Wayne Ball and Jessica Liptak; Rifle Captain, Amy Tyrell, and Flag Captains, Sharon Ziegert and Joy Conte. School spirit soared when the Mohawks performed at the bonfire before the Agawam/Westside football game. Congratulations for a successful year!!

What are you planning on doing with those?

JAZZ BAND

If you ever ventured downstairs during fourth period, your ears were probably instantly aware of the light sounds of a flute, and the blaring of trumpets, accompanied by a score of other instruments. Under the direction of Scott Thomson, with assistant Todd Connery, the '91-92 jazz band allowed 21 talented musicians several opportunities to shine. Their first public appearance was the winter concert at the high school, and their first competition was the High School Jazz Festival at Boston College in January. They also performed in the I.A.J.E. Jazz Festivals. Spring found them in Williamsburg, VA for their annual trip. Lastly, they closed the year with jazz night at the school.

OFFICE OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

The OSA crew

The "Freedom" to vote is something many people take for granted, but not here at Agawam High School. The Office of Student Affairs ensures the student body has the right to elect their class officials.

O.S.A.'s job was to oversee school elections, as well as to raise school spirit. Directed by Kim Macey and advised by Mr. Baggetta, O.S.A. held candy cane and carnation sales. They also sponsored the annual blood drive.

Other officers included Assistant Director Jodi Polep, Secretary Katie Fitzpatrick, and Treasurer Karen Bottasso. With a love for their job, O.S.A. sent school spirit soaring.

UNICORN

The Unicorn, not the animal, but the literary magazine, once again entertained us with stories, poems, and artwork from AHS students. The staff of about twenty members and advisor Mr. O'Brien pored over submissions each Wednesday after school, and seemed to come up with some wild literature. The Valentine's theme issue and the poetry contest added more excitement to the club. This year's staff was headed by the all-famous, Amy Paradysz (Editor-in-chief), creative co-associate editors Sandi Angotti and Krysten D'Amato, poetry editor, Vicki Sousa, prose editor Aaron Lajeunesse, art editors; Heather Feuerbach and Mira Wanklemuth, secretary; Sherry Cheatham, and copy editor Kevin Innarelli.

MIRROR

Did you ever wonder who that group of kids were wandering the halls during 5th period? It was just the 1991-1992 "Mirror" staff. Contrary to popular belief, they were all hard at work. This talented staff was kept busy all year doing interviews and writing articles.

The "Mirror" was advised by Mr. O'Brien. Editor-in-Chief Sharon Ziegert and Associate Editor, Holly Pevzner led the staff. The "Mirror" tackled tough issues, such as racism and teen sex.

The "Mirror Staffers" placed first in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. All of these budding journalists worked hard to bring the school a great paper. Take a look in the "Mirror"!

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Did you think that only geeks and nerds were allowed in the oh-so-prestigious National Honor Society? You were wrong!

Members of the NHS are selected according to character, leadership, service, and academic standing. The National Honor Society was co-advised by Mr. O'Brien and Mrs. Litchfield, who tried to keep order over those memorable Monday afternoon meetings. The NHS yucked it up at the Big E with the Lion's Club, as they helped serve numerous chicken dinners. Other projects included soliciting money for the Toys For Joy fund at Christmastime, answering phones for the American Heart Association, and raising funds for local scholarships. Bonjour Sheila

This year, due to budget cuts, the Spanish and French N.H.S. members were forced to become non-active members. To obtain this honorary position, the members had to finish four years in their respective languages, with an "A" average, and have a "B" average in all their other classes. Besides getting to say they achieved this honor, they eat dinner at an ethnic restaurant. This year, only one student was in the French N.H.S., Sheila Martin. The Spanish N.H.S. was much larger with its four members: Jennifer Christopher, Michelle Auger, Kim Macey, and (missing from photo) Kristina Galarneau.

MATH CLUB AND TEAM

Math Club strikes a pose.

What's the square root of 2,113,197? If $x=4$, what does $4x^2-2y+4/3x^5-x^{3/8}7z$ equal? This is not what you'll hear at a Math Club/Math Team meeting. Granted, math is a part of this activity, and guest speakers talk about job opportunities in mathematical fields.

The Math Club and Math Team were advised by Mrs. Pasternak. The Math Club participates in various community activities, like can drives and bake sales.

The Math Team was led by co-captains Amy Prochaska and Chris Dudek. Students here competed in five competitions, that consisted of both individual and team testing.

So whatever activity you join, you're sure to have fun. "Add" the Math Club and Math Team to your life!

ACADEMIC DECATHLON

The Academic Decathlon buddies up with their advisor.

What factors determine a biome? What is the biggest river in Europe? What does "Jungle Pioneer" by Manhattan Transfer sound like? An Academic Decathlon member would be able to answer these questions. This year, nine or ten students voluntarily met after school to study everything from Literature and Music to Economics and Environmental Science, all as preparation for one super test. This year's team, advised by Mr. O'Brien, consisted of Honors (A) students; Christopher Dudek, Scott Korvek, and Amy Prochaska, Scholastic (B) students; Rich Carra, Amy Paradysz, and James Willis, and Varsity (C) students; Heather Feuerbach (captain), Aaron Lajeunesse, and Tony Spangenberg. Lubna Yousef was an alternate for the November 23 Competition in Pittsfield, where the team earned fifteen individual medals.

AS SCHOOLS MATCH WITS

Okay, so it's not quite Jeopardy, but the members of Agawam High's A.S.M.W. team spent a lot of time learning Greek and Roman mythology, (on purpose?!) literature, and memorizing sports facts. Each Saturday night at 7:30 P.M., Channel 22 hosted this longest running show of its kind. 46 schools competed throughout the year for the final match. Mr. O'Brien worked to prepare members for their television appearances. Led by captain Amy Prochaska, other members included seniors, Vicki Sousa, and Chris Dudek, and junior, James Willis. A.S.M.W. changed a bit this year when Phil Shepardson heard the call of Disney World and retired to Florida. Not to fear, his replacement, John Baran was just as unique.

PEER EDUCATION

Our AHS Peer Leaders

Dealing with the serious issues of drugs and alcohol in our society were the dedicated Peer Educators. They set key examples on how to lead a drug-free life. If some of you out there don't believe it, the Peer Educators followed a contract which stated that they would not drink, smoke, or engage in any drug use. The club was advised by Mrs. Hirshaut and Ms. Beecher, and met each Monday after school to discuss the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.

Projects done by the students included The Great American Smokeout, and roles in the D.A.R.E. program. The Peer Ed crew taught elementary students how to combat peer pressure, and served as positive role models to the school and community alike.

According to our survey, it definitely hurts when one crashes into a streetlight. Since drinking and driving can lead one right into one, this activity is considered a dangerous activity. Fortunately, a club at Agawam High School cared enough to save you from such catastrophe. Shannon Scarlett and her S.A.D.D. posse sponsored many activities that fostered alcohol awareness. They passed out red ribbons on Parent's Night, made Christmas ornaments for the Giving Tree, and sponsored a presentation before the Prom, which showed classmates exactly how devastating the effects of drinking and driving could be.

PRODUCTION CLASS

Production Class is chillin'.

So you saw the shows and thought the performers did great because they had the nerve to get up there, but who was responsible for all the behind the scenes work? With the help of director Mr. Files, the production class planned the stage design, sound, and lighting of the concerts. The sixteen students met for one period every day and some evenings to prepare for shows. Five people specialized in sound and lighting. Ten made up the stage crew, and there was a producer, Serena Barber.

Trust me, the show is completely under control.

Mike's very excited about the up-coming show!

Can you imagine going to every school committee meeting? Why would you want to go? There is a group of dedicated students that went to every meeting. They are the Student Advisory to the School Committee. These future hopefuls attended meetings to give the adult members a student's perspective. Those involved in SASC conducted polls and surveys to see how the student body wanted the school run, and what programs they would like to see at AHS. Senior Jeremy Hill had speaking rights this year, and presented information to the committee.

Others included Kristina Galarneau, James Willis, John Manning, Beth Fleury, and Kerry Gagne.

"If we are, and will be, living in a global community, then we can no longer ignore one another. We must know one another. AFS accomplishes this one person at a time."

— Mrs. Bruce Hanrahan

Agawam is only a small part of a big world. So how can we understand what it would be like to live in another country or for a foreigner to live here? That's why AFS welcomed foreign students and ideas through exchange weekends, and trips to Boston and New York. Exchange students included Paola Anselmetti (Italy), Jovita Carrasco (Ecuador), Flo Laly (France), Kris Tuerlinchx (Belgium), Nadine Bruggeman (Germany), and Thomas Wlaschiha (Germany). We were lucky to have a visiting teacher; Ana Atienza, from Argentina.

PROM COMMITTEE

Did you ever dream of dancing the night away in the arms of your prince or princess charming while listening to incredible music, and feasting upon plates of delicious food? Ever wonder who made sure everything turned out perfect? Wonder no more! The efforts of the Prom Committee made the Junior-Senior Prom a night to remember. Advised by Mrs. Schilling-Nordal, the theme, "Just for a Moment", and the black, white, red, and gold decorations chosen by the committee helped set the mood. The new "King" and "Queen" titles, strobe light effects, and the atmosphere of Chez Josef were enjoyed by many starry-eyed juniors and seniors. All that was left up to you was the right date — let's hope you made the right decision!

The Committee Plans the Perfect Prom

FUTURE TEACHERS

The classroom looks like a scene out of "Summer School". The teacher yells, "Quiet down, boys and girls!" She gets laughed at. You wonder why anyone would ever want to be a teacher. Amazingly we have many "Future Teachers" in our school. The members of the FTA are advised by Mr. Figy. Their main events this year were the annual candy sale, working with the Blood Mobile, and doing a project for a terminally ill child who wants to get in The Guinness Book of World Records for getting the most "Get-Well" cards. These activities were organized by President; Karen Dean, Vice President; Lynn Moreau, Secretary; Dina Scirpo, and Treasurer; Elizabeth Cornwell.

LIBRARY STAFF

The Library Aides . . . and Tony.

"I couldn't part with any of them," said Mrs. Shimmel of her library staff. The library aides volunteered time from their studies to check books in and out, find magazines, and run errands. Because so many students applied for positions, Mrs. Shimmel made some changes in January to allow more students a chance to help out. The staff for the first half of the year included: Bridget Pond, Amy Rust, Jen Baginski, Michelle Rafflee, Pauline McNamee, Doug Rose, Mike Brames, Marcia Walker, Jill Miller, Kerry Longto, Gina Maynard, Tanya Rydell, Addie Hume, Lisa Prefontaine, Scott Bracci, Anna McNamee, Matt Grych, Roberta Guild, Stacey Jacobson, Tony Magnacca, Shawn Byrne, Kathy Bodman, Concetta DeCaro, and Beth Fleury. Many thanks to them all.

MODEL CONGRESS

Hey . . . Where are you sticking that book?

Model Congress rates themselves on a one to ten basis.

Freedom is not only the theme of this yearbook. It was a premise our country was founded on, and something communist countries are working to achieve. But why do we consider ourselves a free nation? One reason is the influence each person can have in legislation, if they know how. Members of the Model Congress club learned how government works, gained debate experience, and attempted to pass Agawam's bill in "Congress" at AIC on January 9-11. Active legislators included Jeremy Hill, Andrew Turcotte, Marcus Trinchini, Nicole Racicot, Mike Fisher, John Manning, Tammy Leary, Mike Knodler, Kevin Willard, and Ben Ferris.

Marco might be our future president.

S.A.F.E.

Did you ever notice the lack of alcohol/drug free social opportunities? Sure, but did you do something about it? Of course not. But one mother, Joan Bitgood, did. She formed S.A.F.E. (Social Activities Fun and Entertaining), an organization that planned many events throughout the year, including a Halloween dance, and a Sadie Hawkins dance. The focus of the year was to raise enough money for a Spring Carnival and a "Battle of the Bands" in May. The following parents and students made the first year of S.A.F.E. a success: Iris Copson, Helen Manning, Patti Freeman, Barbara Pajak, Carol Orr, Don Hume, Phyllis Lewis, Nancy Swikalus, Eve Descant, Terri Polumbo, Jill Robb, Kristel Harrington, Lana Quintal, and Leslie Gorman.

SEMI FORMAL

I can't believe I forgot Kim!

The Semi-Formal, held on December 22 at Shaker Farms, was one of the most beautiful memories the seniors will have of their last year together. Both as a festive gathering of friends, and as a romantic evening of dinner and dancing, the Semi was a success. Many thanks to the class officers and class advisor, Mr. Dean Vecchiarelli, and the D.J., Dominic Dilizia for keeping the tunes coming 'til midnight. Lambada, Michele?

Hi Beth!

They all agree that Chez Josef was a great prom choice.

Who lost their contact?

Mrs. Schilling-Nordal enjoys the prom she helped coordinate . . .

Nice dance move, Chris!

KID PARTY

It's Peg and Al from "Married with Children!"

... And from Kansas ...

Did you ever think you'd run into the Jackson Five, Peg and Al Bundy, and Bert and Ernie in the AHS cafeteria? If you were at the Senior Kid Party on November 22, these weren't the only famous people you got to hang out with. The 1991-1992 seniors sang, danced, and had a blast! Highlights of the night included prizes awarded for lip syncing and best costumes. The winner for the boys was Mike Briggs, dressed as Cleopatra. The Wicked Witch of the West, Karen Schneider, won for the girls. The Jackson Five, consisting of Kris Bronson, Amy LaPlante, Joy Gaudreau, Cathy Hill, and Lisa Dialessi, won the group award. The best lip syncing performance went to Ray Gobelle, singing "Standing on Top of the World." The 1991-1992 Kid Party was another successful event for the class of 1992.

It's past our bedtime!

We hope that's a mask ...

Praying for a trip back to Iraq ...

Jenn and Sarah will never forget the Kid Party.

The ex-presidents bombard AHS!

Flower Power at the Kid Party.

Bert and Ernie teaching us our ABC's.

Guns N' Roses rock the house.

Cute tutus, boys.

Showin' off some legs at the Kid Party.

The beards say it all . . .

AFS students enjoy the party.

BONFIRE RALLY

GO AGAWAM!!

Agawam football players know how to get the crowd going!

Waiting patiently for the big moment . . .

Just practicing for the big West Side game

Brownie pride burns bright at the Rally.

Gridiron Moms cheer for their sons.

VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

Look out, Kerri!

Marc sets the ball perfectly.

The crowd roots for their favorite team.

Don't get dizzy, Matt!

There's a net in front of you, sir . . .

Slam!

EDITOR'S PAGES

Nothing can ever compare to being this yearbook's editor. The friends I've made on the staff will last a lifetime. To Aundi, Christie, Jenn, and Shannon — I love you guys. You amaze me. You had the hardest job and you came through. Thank you. To Amy², Heather and Krysten — you were wonderful, and the yearbook words will be ones to live by in the future. (Seniors rule!) Thank you. To Jodi, Kristin, Kristina, Kelly, Sarah, and Amy I leave all new cars and lots of gas money. Thank you. To Erica, Erin, Jill, Michele, and Sharon — we made it. (Even if 60 Minute Photo can open a franchise.) Thank you. To Katie and Ben — (actually Katie) — just kidding Ben, I'm grateful for your springing into action on the spur of the moment. Thank you. To Jen, Kim, and Mark — you guys have will power; you can tell by the candy jar incidents that I don't. Thank you. To Michelle — What chaos! I'm surprised you survived! You can have anything in the candy jar except the Chunkys — they're mine! Thank you. Finally, to Leslie and Sheila — I couldn't possibly thank you enough. Without you I would have probably lost it! We are forever friends, (but don't look in the FF section, we're not there. I looked.

To the 1992 YB staff — you can breathe a sigh of relief, it's over. But . . . "It's hard to say goodbye to yesterday." I'll miss you all. See you at the 5th year reunion, (I'll be the one in the limo — HA HA.) Just one more thing — to the 1993 yearbook staff, all I can say is that a lot is riding on your working as a team. Everyone contributes to something your class can appreciate and keep forever. It's an honor to be on the yearbook staff — not a right. It will be the "toughest job you'll ever love!"

Love, Lana Quintal

P.S. To the Bonding Posse, (and you know who you are), nothing leaves that room!

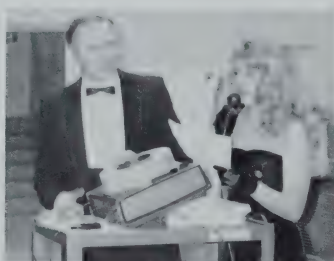

I've wanted to be on the yearbook staff ever since I was a baby. (Well . . . maybe that's exaggerating a little . . .)

As you can see, one minute we're making earth-shattering decisions . . .

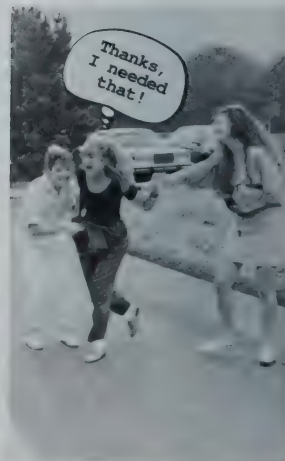

. . . And the next, we're goofing around! Yearbook is great! I'll never forget it!

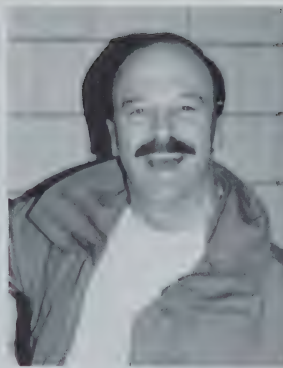

Mr. Pulaski — well I tried to break tradition as much as I could. I hope you love this yearbook as much as I do. After seeing you everyday, I'll miss you so much. However, all of the things you taught me will stay with me forever. You have turned into my greatest role model . . . I love you.

My two associate editors were the best. I wish yearbook never ended. (You two will have to come over soon for munchies.)

show Choir was such an important part of my AHS years and I'll miss you all very much. I hope you all continue, because you are all very talented.

Thank you, Mr. Files. If it wasn't for you, I wouldn't have made it this far. I'll never forget your generosity.

If the love and faith in me from my friends and family won't get me there, nothing will.

I've made more friends that I'll miss through Theatre than anywhere else. I loved it, and Mrs. Poulin is the best. I hope I turn out just like her.

I never thought an acting job could ever have such a strong and meaningful effect. I'll never drink and drive.

Karen, you've stuck with me through a lot. You are my best friend, and the best times I've ever had I've had with you. I'll miss you more than anybody.

Mom and Dad — I love you very much. You always supported me and made me feel like I could do anything. Thank you.

I love you, Tom, and I'm so happy we're together. The future is ours.
